

From: suewminter@webtv.net (sue Minter)
Subject: Re: Rayburn
Date: 4 April 2000 21:55:14 GMT+00:00
To: abulsme@abulsme.com (Samuel Minter)

Did i properly thank you, samel, for the small and large version of the grandparents!!! You are right: the little one is better to forward.

The grande one took two sheets and I had to paste them together:>)

Its interesting as I e-mail the cousin in Albuquerque(younger of the two boys who were my playmates each summer in Ky at the log cabin and farm of these very same grandparents photo. Wilbur , may age almost.remembers Grandma saying" Son, while your are resting(!), could you pull some weeds for the hogs etcetc!! or whatever: WHLE YOU ARE REATING:>) Charles(younger in Albuquerque) scientist , inventor says he doen't knowif she was comparing their boychores to her working from dawn to dusk and Just didn't think little chores added up to her WORK.

Did I send you review of the play where Jetti(who went one summer with us to Ky and picked berriesk rode the hay wagon, waded in the "crick" etc) plays a 90 year old Appalachian woman. When theother charactr from New York yuppie life sits awhile to do her nails, or Think, the old lady says its a waste of time, and "the devil has mischief for idle hands

Thanks again for your effort. love Grandma

I am not having much luck reaching the Webtv 800 # with a ?. You are probably much busier than they, but will try. Now with my printer I can type a letter on the screen, then print if from which I can make fotocopies'

But then I can't seem to get the arrow over to the left side to erase it?????? Any ideas. If I turn it off and hit write again for a new letter, that letter is still there:<(

Plunged into the wrong age for my age.