

From: "Sue Minter" <suewminter@webtv.net>
Subject: bumping down the hill
Date: 7 September 2006 17:30:59 GMT+00:00
To: sminter@unm.edu, drminter@prodigy.net.mx, Procel@gmail.com, tepozl@hotmail.com, abulsme@abulsme.com
Cc: MaryLouHoldman@aol.com, suenagel1@juno.com

this is one of those stories one would rather erase, but the girl and I will never forget it so it must be told I guess. The car was hard to start so I parked at the top of our hill drive and put a rock to keep it secure. One morning susan and diane were in the back seat and I loosed the rock and ran to get in the car and to the steering wheel. It was faster than I was and went bumping along without me!! Fortunately for all concerned there was a turn in the road and it stopped the car. A member of the Farm came over and helped me get the car back on the road. The girls comment was":mom, we bounced up and down!:<(" I relive that and shudder often what if...as susan says I;m not great with cars. We were sitting in a living room at Pdence (a later visit as we had a rental car I think). I had parked out front. We looked out and saw the car sliding by. I guess I hadn't the brake on right:< That ended ok too as i recall.