Samuel,

Here is a two generation chart for James Logan.

I descend from both Edward and Abraham Logan on my grandfather's and grandmother's side respectively.

By the way, I have one of "Feud Books" your grandmother mentioned. I suspect the author your grandmother mentioned in her packet was cousin Fred W. Brown. He descends from Julian Hannah (Logan) Enix.

Descendants of James Logan

Daniel Boone Logan. ----- Especially worthy of mention in a work of this character is Daniel Boone Logan, a gifted and well-known legist, now engaged in practice in Pineville, Bell county, Kentucky. He is a native son, his birth having occurred April 23, 1858 in the country near Olive Hill, Carter county. He comes from one of the old American families which in days gone by so securely laid the foundation of national independence. The founder of the family on these shores was James Logan, great-grandfather of Daniel B. He was the son of a Scotchman of the same name who emigrated from the old world about twenty years previous to the outbreak of the Revolutionary war, locating in the colony of Pennsylvania. He found much to do in the new country besides winning a homestead from the wilderness in fighting the Indians for the Redskins at that time had not given up their claim to the state as their own hunting grounds. He participated in the battle of Blue Licks, now in Nicholas county, Kentucky, and was severely wounded in the engagement. Subsequently he located in that part of the state, in 1790, the section with which he was most familiar being now divided into Rowan, Fleming, Carter, Lewis and Boyd counties. He took as his wife Caroline Elizabeth Hughes, a young woman of Keystone State stock. They reared a family of fine sons and daughters, the sons being William, Moses, Abraham, Edward, and Tobias, the latter grandfather of Daniel Boone Logan; and the daughters were Julia, Susan, Sarah, and Elizabeth. William Logan, the eldest son was among the early settlers on Triplett's Creek, as were called the waters of Licking River in that part of Fleming county out of which Rowan county was afterward formed. There he resided all his life, being a well know citizen. Moses, the second son, settled besides the head waters of Kinnickonick Creek, a stream feeding the Ohio, in that part of Fleming county out of which Lewis county was afterward formed and there he continued to reside until his assassination by one Moses Burt about the year 1869.

He left a large family of sons and daughters, nearly all of whom are yet living within a few miles of their father's old home. Abraham, the third son settled on what was then, and still is known as "Negro Hill," on the divide between Montgomery Creek and White Oak Creek, a tributary of Tygart's Creek in Lewis county, Kentucky, and there he lived until his death about the year 1900. Edward, called "Ned" Logan, the fourth son, settled and lived all his life on Big White Oak Creek, near the home of his brother, "Abe" in what is now Greenup county, Kentucky. He died about 1880. Both left large families, who occupy the homesteads and adjacent farms. Tobias, grandfather of the subject, was the fifth and youngest son of James Logan. He was born in 1796 at the mouth of Bull Fork of Triplett's Creek, in what is now Rowan county and he married Polly A. Taber, daughter of Robert Taber, to their union having been born seven sons and two daughters. They were as follows: James Fleming, father of the subject of this biographical record; Washington; Robert R.; Madison C.; Moses G.; Francis M.; Henry, Diana, who became the wife of Leander Markwell, and Elizabeth, who married Benjamin Hargett.

James Fleming Logan, father of the gentleman to who this review is dedicated, was born September 20, 1818, on Bull Fork of Triplett's Creek of Licking River, in what was then Fleming county and is now Rowan county. He was a farmer and trader in live stock. Like the majority of the young men of his day and generation he found it necessary to content himself with a limited education, his knowledge of teaching reading, writing and arithmetic to the "rule of 3" being gained behind a rule desk in the country school house. In political conviction James Fleming Logan was a Whig in the earlier days and when the Civil War became a tragic reality, he enlisted as a volunteer soldier in the Union army, it being his from conviction that the integrity of the Union should be preserved at all costs. He latterly was affiliated with the Democratic party and voted for McClellan for president in 1864 and for Seymour and Blair in 1868. This good citizen was shot and wounded on March 17, 1869, by George (old George) and "Alf" Underwood, both horsetheives and criminals, and on Nov. 18, 1869, he died from the effect of his wounds at Rocky Ford, Tygart's Creek, in Greenup county, Kentucky. On May 22, 1857, he married Nancy McGlone, daughter of William Owen McGlone and he and his bride located on a small farm on the Sugar Tree Fork, of Tygart's Creek, near his father home in Carter county, where Daniel B. Logan was born on the two hundred and ninety-fourth anniversary of the birth of Shakespeare. The widow of James F. Logan, an admirable lady, now in her seventy-sixth year, resides near Morehead, in Rowan county, making her home with her son, Sebastian E. Logan. Her grandfather, Owen McGlone, was a Scotchman, who settled in 1793 on Buffalo Fork of Tygart's Creek in what was then Fleming county and is now Carter county, Kentucky. That pioneer citizen reared a large family of children, many of whose descendants reside on the McGlone fork of Buffalo Creek, which received its name from the founder of the McGlone family.

Daniel Boone Logan received his preliminary education in the common schools of Carter and Lewis counties, Kentucky, and later matriculated at Morehead high school in Rowan county and a Grayson Academy in Carter county. At the latter institution he was under the tutorship of H. T. Littleton, principal. His first adventures as a wage earner were in the capacity of a school teacher, this period extending from 1876 until 1886, and the fields of his pedagogical endeavors being Bath, Rowan and Fleming counties. He became assistant to his former instructor in both Morehead and Grayson Academies, this service continuing from 1877 to 1880. Subsequent to this he was principal of the Morehead high school for three years. As has been so frequently the case, his career as an instructor was but preliminary to his career as a lawyer, for which his natural gifts and proclivities eminently fitted him. He first prosecuted his studies under the direction of Judge Van B. Young of Mt. Sterling, Kentucky, and was admitted to the practice of the law at Morehead in August, 1886, forming a partnership in the law practice with his former patron, Mr. Young, which association continued to exist until Judge Young, was elected to the bench of the superior court of the state, an intermediate court of errors, then existing, which had been created by the legislature under the Kentucky constitution of 1849. He removed to Bell county in 1890, and has ever since that time resided at Pinveille, where he is successfully engaged in the practice of the law.

Mr. Logan is a Democrat in his political convictions and has ever given most loyal service and support to the party, but he is not an office seeker and has never served in public capacity, with the exception of that of Master Commissioner of Rowan Circuit Court for two years. He has various financial interest being concerned with the affairs of the Pineville Water Works, the Cumberland Heights Ice Company, the Bell National Bank or Pineville, the Elk Coal Company, the Pineville Investment Association, and the Straight Creek Mineral Company. He is prominent in Masonry and exemplifies in his own living those ideals of moral and social justice and brotherly love of which the order stands. He is connected with Bell Lodge, F. A. M. No. 691; and Middleboro Chapter, No. 135, R. A. M. He is also affiliated with Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, No. 1041, of Middleboro, Kentucky, and with the Knights of the Maccabees of the World, Cumberland Tent No. 2, Pineville.

Mr. Logan assumed happy marital relations on January 29, 1884, when at Moorhead, Kentucky, Lizzie Evans, daughter of Benjamin and Zerilda Evans of Morehead became his bride. Ben Evans was a Confederate Soldier and was killed in an engagement at West Liberty, Morgan county. He was at first a captain in Humphrey Marshall's brigade, and for a time was attached to Morgan's celebrated raiders. He was succeeded in command after his death by Thomas J. F. Hargis of Morehead, Kentucky, afterward a judge of the court of appeals. Ben Evans, who was a son of Isaac Evans, of Cater county, Kentucky, was a millwright and trader from his boyhood until the beginning of the conflict between the states. In 1856 he married Zerilda, daughter of Jackson Richards of Rowan county, and she survived him for many years, dying at Pineville, at the home of the subject in 1905. At the time of her demise she was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Logan. The union of Mr. and Mrs. Logan has been blessed by the birth of four children. The eldest daughter, Gertrude Florence, was born April 28, 1885., at Morehead, Rowan county, Kentucky. She was graduated in 1905, from Hamilton College, Lexington, Kentucky and in 1906 became the wife of John R. Boring, a lawyer of London, Laurel county, Kentucky. The second daughter, Virginia May, born September 10, 1886, was graduated with her sister from Hamilton Female College, at Lexington, in June 1905, as president of the class and in the following December, married N. R. Patterson, attorney-at-law, at Owingsville, Bath county, Kentucky. Mr. Patterson is at present residing at Pineville and is mayor of his adopted home city. Benjamin F. Logan, born in Morehead, Kentucky, June 23, 1889, attended Lincoln Memorial University, at Cumberland Gap, Tennessee, for two years and was a student at Culver Military Academy, at Culver Indiana, during 1907 and 1908. On June 23, 1911, he married Miss Clare Ewell, of London, Kentucky and they make their home at Pineville, Kentucky. Daniel Boone Logan Jr. was born Oct. 6, 1896, and is the youngest of the four children.

Daniel Boone Logan, of Pineville, was born in Carter county, Kentucky, on the 23rd day of April, 1858. By his life he has honored the name which he bears and which is so inseparably connected with the history of the state. The family name, too, is closely interwoven with the annals of Kentucky, for the great-grandfather, James Logan, came to the wild and undeveloped region known as the "Dark and Bloody Ground" long before there was any attempt at government organization. William Logan a native of Scotland and the first of the family to come to America settled in North Carolina, whence he removed to Kentucky, locating near Shelbyville. James Logan was then a child. He afterward participated in the Indian wars and was shot, scalped and left for dead at the battle of Blue Licks, but life was not extinct and many years afterward he told the tale of the cruelty and treachery of the savage.

PS. I have proven, with James Revolutionary war pension application, that James was from Washington Co., PA. Also, I have never proven or disproved the ancestry of James Logan. According to the pension application, James Logan came to Harrison Co., KY, not Shelbyville, KY. The pension was disallowed by the Federal Government because his service was in 1792 and the Revolutionary War ended in

Henry Razor, below, was at witness to the pension application of James Logan. See my web page for a complete viewing of the pension application.

The Rowan County News
April 30, 1936

EARLY HISTORY OF ROWAN COUNTY AS TAKEN FROM THE RECORDS OF THE FIRST ESTABLISHED WOMENS CLUB HERE

Giving a Glimpse of the Organization And Its Community Effect.

When Rowan County was a part of Fleming County, in 1791, Jacob Powers and Barnett Simmons came here from Virginia. Both were men of considerable wealth and owned many slaves. Jacob Powers was the grandfather of H. M. Logan.

At this time Lewis D. Lee owned the farm now known as the Marion Tolliver farm and donated the ground for what is now the Lee Cemetery. Ben Evans lived in the log house which stood on the property now occupied by Cornelious Caudill. He was the father of Mrs. Boone Logan of Pineville, Ky.

Uncle Tom Trumbo lived across Triplett Creek in the house burned. Aunt Polly Cassity lived on and owned quite a boundary of land in the west end of Morehead, later known as the Judge J. W. Riley farm.

Mr. William Nickell, grandfather of George and William Nickell was one of the early settlers. Mrs. Libby Oxley, grandmother of George and William Nickell, owned much of the land on which Morehead now stands, and lived on the site now occupied by Will Hogge's store.

E. Houston Logan, father of Mrs. Queen Clark, lived on what is known as the Frank Nickell farm now owned by Dr. A. L. Blair.

Ben Johnson built the house occupied for a time by Can Caudill next to the Masonic building. Elias Bradley, familiarly known as Grandfather Bradley, owned the land where Clearfield now stands.

Mr. James Black also owned much land here.

William Logan was one of the most prosperous men of the county. All of the above named people lived here before the Civil War. In 1854 Colonel Hargis came here and purchased from Mrs. Oxley, the land and marked out the town of Morehead, after Governor Morehead, one of Kentucky's early governors.

The county was then cut off from Fleming and Morgan Counties and named Rowan, after Judge John R. Rowan of Fleming County.

The first offices elected were James Black, jailer, Isaac Johnson, sheriff. The came the Civil War and but little progress was made for some time.

Other early arrivals in Morehead were; 1869, James E. Clark, father of Mrs. J. W. Riley. 1870, Doctor Banfield. 1871, Z. T. Young, 1873, H. M. Logan, 1874, Grandfather Carey, 1875 Harry Burns, 1876 James Moody, 1880 Uncle Cloy Powers, 1881 Mr. Hamilton, 1882 Dr. Raine, 1887 Dr. Frank C. Button and mother.

THE TROUBLES IN ROWAN

Indictment of Several Parties for Conspiring to Murder Judge Cole and the Youngs.

Courier-Journal Morehead Special

The people of this town and county were thrown into a wild state of excitement Saturday evening when they ascertained that the grand jury had reported true bills against Henry S. Logan, Morgan McClurg and Lou Rayborn, charging them with the crime of confederating and banding themselves together for the purpose of killing Judge A. E. Cole, Colonel Z. T. Young and his son, Allie W. Young, now County Attorney of Rowan. The scheme to murder these was detected just in time to save their lives and in this way: Late Thursday evening a suspicious character was seen lurking around the town and about the depot, whom the Sheriff arrested and placed under guard. He gave his name as James A. Harris, alias Pendlum, and afterward told to his Uncle Hayden Harris of this county the following story.

That he lived in Fleming county and Henry S. Logan had hired him to come here and assist in the killing of these men, promising to furnish four men to help, viz. Morgan McClurg, Lou Rayborn, Mr. Hensley and a Mr. Logan—could not give first names of the latter two—and provide them with guns and ammunition, and pay them for services, $100 each when the job was completed. Henry S. Logan said that Howard Logan would put up the money and would give them more if they required; that he, Howard Logan, had $1,500 to spend in this way, if necessary. He also stated that he had been staying at Henry S. Logan's for about two months, and had conferred with Morgan McClurg and Lou Rayborn, who said that the work could easily be done, and concluded that the best time to do it would be during court, when they would all be here. The plan agreed upon was to shoot them from the brush or through the windows of the hotel. If both these plans failed they were to fire the hotel and shoot them as they ran out.

This story was sworn to by Harris. James Pelfrey also testified to the above conspiracy and other circumstances tended to prove the truth of Harris's statement.

Henry S. Logan and Morgan McClurg were arrested last evening and in default of $6,000 bail, were sent to jail. Lou Rayborn has not yet been apprehended. W. H. Logan and brother, sons of Henry S. Logan, were put under bonds to keep the peace.

The five would be assassins were to have met last night at Henry Logan's and complete arrangements, but thanks to the clever detective work of the officers, their murderous plans have been frustrated. A strong guard was placed at the jail last night and instructed by the court to prevent the release of the prisoners by friends or injury by enemies.

Judge Cole and the officers of the court are fearless in the discharge of their duties and resolved to enforce the law at all hazards, even at the sacrifice of their lives. The only hope and safety for Rowan is for her citizens, irrespective of parties, to peaceably submit to the lawful authorities and the executive and the press should stand by and uphold the sworn officers of the law in their attempt to preserve the peace. We confidently hope and predict a peaceable solution of the now unsettled condition of affairs here, but know not what a day or an hour may bring forth.

ZACHARY TAYLOR YOUNG

Rumors of His Arrest at Morehead-Further Particulars From The Tragedy

The vigilance committee in Rowan was animated by a feeling of vengeance, which did not apply alone to Craig Tolliver. There always has been good reason for believing Zachary Taylor Young to be at least morally responsible for much of the trouble in Rowan and the outraged citizens have felt that it would be a good thing to have him out of the way. There are various reports concerning the whereabouts of Young, but it is known he has been wanted by the vigilantes. The following is a dispatch which was sent yesterday from Lexington.

"A dispatch just received here says that Zachary Young former County Attorney in Rowan, who has been accused of being at the bottom of all the Rowan County trouble, has been arrested at Morehead this morning, It is believed he will be mobbed, but nothing can (be) learned now. Considering the temper of the people of Rowan, it is not improbable Young will pay for the part he has taken, with his life.

* * *

"Dr. H. S. Logan, who has just been pardoned by Governor Knott, had a part in the last Rowan tragedy, according to a report in the Lexington Press. Here is the account, written at Morehead Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. Logan, who was recently released from the Lexington jail, arrived in this section about Monday last and swore out warrant for the arrest of Craig Tolliver at all hazards. The Sheriff summoned a posse of about seventy-five men and armed them with Winchester rifles. They repaired to the Cottage Hotel, ran by Craig Tolliver, and where he was then located. The Sheriff, after stationing his men demanded of Craig Tolliver that he surrender. Tolliver replied that a thousand men could not take him and his friends and immediately began a red-hot fusillade against the posse. The first fire came near weakening the posse; for although none were killed, they began to make a slight retreat.

Tolliver then cried to his men to come on and they began to advance on the officers. Then a pitched battle took place right near the depot in which upwards of 300 shots were fired, and when the smoke had cleared away it was seen that three of the Tolliver faction had "bit the dust." Jeff Tolliver, Bud Tolliver and Hiram Cooper were found to be the ones who were unfortunate enough to be in front of the fatal bullets. Craig Tolliver, who had by this time become desperate, kept up his advance and when he had reached the railroad track, the posse fired another round, when Craig Tolliver reeled and fell across the railroad track, dead. The dead were then picked up and carried to the depot where they were viewed by a large crowd of persons, all anxious to see the last of them.

At 1 o'clock train No. 1 was allowed to pass through and the firing had almost entirely ceased. A number of persons on each side were also badly wounded the worst one being Dr. Brown, who is reported as having received a dangerous wound in the thigh which may yet result fatally. The remainder of the Tolliver faction, as soon as their chieftain had fallen, lost all control of themselves, and began to make their escape, nearly all taking to the country. The posse started in hot pursuit and will probably overtake them before night. The principal one of the refugees is Z. T. Young, who is thought to have gone in the direction of Mt. Sterling or Lexington. Officers at Mt. Sterling and Lexington have been notified to watch all trains and capture the fugitives." (This story has no support in the testimony of Boone Logan, Sheriff Hogge or Z. T. Young).

The Last Tragedy in Rowan

The Flemingsbury Times-Democrat has this version of the killing of the Logan boys. "The Marshal of Morehead, John Mannin, went out to the house of Henry Logan with a warrant for the arrest of William Logan on an indictment for carrying a pistol. When he arrived there, he found William Logan up stairs with his brother Jack Logan. He started up the stairs to make the arrest, after telling them what he wanted, but before he got half way up he was met by a load of buckshot from one of the Logan boys, which lodged in his shoulder, mangling it in a fearful manner. He fell, but managed to crawl away and raise a posse, composed of his two brothers, three of the Tollivers (including Craig) and two others unknown to us. They went to the Logan house that evening, two of them going to the front door and the remainder to the rear, and when those at the front knocked, the two Logans ran out at the back door, shooting as they ran. The posse returned the fire, filling each of them with lead. One of them was shot three times and the other, four times, killing them instantly."

The disgrace of Rowan County

(Lexington Press)

A few days ago this criminal Craig Tolliver was elected Police Judge and has complete mastery of the town. There are many indictments against him for various crimes and yet this "grand old Commonwealth" that Governor Knott speaks of as "a royal diadem on the bosom of the Union" disgraces its pure and undefiled name by allowing a criminal under indictment to hold office and exercise the rights of that office.

BLOODSHED IN ROWAN

Two more attempts at Murder--Dr. Logan Released From Jail

The disgraceful condition of affairs in Rowan County shows no abatement. On the contrary, the reign of bloodshed seems only about beginning. Closely following upon the murder of the two Logan boys comes the news of the shooting of ex-Deputy Sheriff William Ramey and his son Henry, aged twenty-four years. They were shot from ambush near the county seat, Morehead. It is not known who did the shooting, but it is believed that they were shot by members of the Craig Tolliver gang for refusing to join with them in their bloody work. At last account neither, Ramey nor his son were dead, although their wounds are dangerous.

Yesterday morning Governor Knott ordered the release of Dr. H. S. Logan, father of the two boys recently killed by the Tolliver gang, and R. M. McClurg, from the jail at Lexington, where they have been confined for several months past, charged with conspiracy against the lives of Zachary Taylor Young, Judge A. E. Cole and others. The charge is dismissed by this action of the Governor's.

ZACHARY TAYLOR YOUNG

The vigilance committee in Rowan was animated by a feeling of vengeance, which did not apply alone to Craig Tolliver. There always has been good reason for believing Zachary Taylor Young to be at least morally responsible for much of the trouble in Rowan and the outraged citizens have felt that it would be a good thing to have him out of the way. There are various reports concerning the whereabouts of Young, but it is known he has been wanted by the vigilantes. The following is a dispatch which was sent yesterday from Lexington.

"A dispatch just received here says that Zachary Young former County Attorney in Rowan, who has been accused of being at the bottom of all the Rowan County trouble, has been arrested at Morehead this morning, It is believed he will be mobbed, but nothing can (be) learned now. Considering the temper of the people of Rowan, it is not improbable Young will pay for the part he has taken, with his life.

* * *

"Dr. H. S. Logan, who has just been pardoned by Governor Knott, had a part in the last Rowan tragedy, according to a report in the Lexington Press. Here is the account, written at Morehead Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. Logan, who was recently released from the Lexington jail, arrived in this section about Monday last and swore out warrant for the arrest of Craig Tolliver at all hazards. The Sheriff summoned a posse of about seventy-five men and armed them with Winchester rifles. They repaired to the Cottage Hotel, ran by Craig Tolliver, and where he was then located. The Sheriff, after stationing his men demanded of Craig Tolliver that he surrender. Tolliver replied that a thousand men could not take him and his friends and immediately began a red-hot fusillade against the posse. The first fire came near weakening the posse; for although none were killed, they began to make a slight retreat.

Tolliver then cried to his men to come on and they began to advance on the officers. Then a pitched battle took place right near the depot in which upwards of 300 shots were fired, and when the smoke had cleared away it was seen that three of the Tolliver faction had "bit the dust." Jeff Tolliver, Bud Tolliver and Hiram Cooper were found to be the ones who were unfortunate enough to be in front of the fatal bullets. Craig Tolliver, who had by this time become desperate, kept up his advance and when he had reached the railroad track, the posse fired another round, when Craig Tolliver reeled and fell across the railroad track, dead. The dead were then picked up and carried to the depot where they were viewed by a large crowd of persons, all anxious to see the last of them.

At 1 o'clock train No. 1 was allowed to pass through and the firing had almost entirely ceased. A number of persons on each side were also badly wounded the worst one being Dr. Brown, who is reported as having received a dangerous wound in the thigh which may yet result fatally. The remainder of the Tolliver faction, as soon as their chieftain had fallen, lost all control of themselves, and began to make their escape, nearly all taking to the country. The posse started in hot pursuit and will probably overtake them before night. The principal one of the refugees is Z. T. Young, who is thought to have gone in the direction of Mt. Sterling or Lexington. Officers at Mt. Sterling and Lexington have been notified to watch all trains and capture the fugitives." (This story has no support in the testimony of Boone Logan, Sheriff Hogge or Z. T. Young).

Obituary of William H. Norris, from Earl Calvin Padgett Jr. ecp6522@aol.com
William H. Norris was born in Bath Co., KY April 4, 1822, died in Peabody, KS, March 12, 1909, age 86 yrs. 11 months, 8 days. February 20, 1845 he was united in marriage to Lucy Ann Logan, and to their home came twelve children, nine sons and three daughters, but five sons and two daughters have gone to the home beyond. When the civil war broke out Mr. Norris bade wife and children good-bye and hastened to answer his country's call enlisting as 1st Lieut., Co. F. 24th KY Vols. In Oct 1861 and among other engagements he was in the bloody battle of Shiloh the following spring.

His health failed, however and he was compelled to resign his commission and was mustered out of service within a year after his enlistment.

In 1871 Mr. Norris came to Kansas, and settled near Peabody where his wife died March 30, 1885. Twenty-two years ago he removed to Peabody and has made this his home ever since. Nov. 14, 1892 he was married to Mrs. Hilda Kelsheimer who has proven a faithful companion to the end. In his boyhood days he became a Christian. For more than a quarter of a century he has been an elder in the church. About three years ago he passed through a severe illness from which he never fully recovered, and when on last Monday, he was stricken with paralysis, the family knew the messenger had come, but not until Friday -- here the copy is not readable, then picks up with more -- Dr. Granville R., Burlington, KS and Mrs. Betty A. Cunningham of Harper, there remain thirty grandchildren, many great grand-children and one great great grand child, Eldon Earl Bailey, to cherish his memory.

Funeral services were held at the Christian Church Saturday at 4 PM conducted by Elder Spencer and the remains were laid to rest with the G.A.R honers. A general thank you from the family followed, and was signed as follows: G. R. Norris, H. H. Norris, H. S. Norris, Mrs. B. A. Cunningham & J. H. Norris.

Tombstone inscription:

Inscription: Lieut. Co. F 24 Ky Inf. (Civil War stone, no dates).

Bloody Rowan Craig Tolliver Violates the Truce and Morehead is Again Terrorized.

A telegram from Owingsville says: The peace relations between the warring factions of Rowan county are just now in a very strained condition. Craig Tolliver from whom one of the factions takes its name, and the chief instigator of the devilment done by his party, and on whose voluntary exile from the county rests the treaty of peace arrange by Prosecuting Attorney Caruth, has openly violated his promise to remain away, having been seen in Morehead for several days past. By many of the citizens this is regarded as a sure signal for renewed hostilities and by some as a just cause for such proceedings. It is well known that these factions would not hesitate to shed each other's blood upon the slightest pretext. Since the shooting of Howard Logan by an assassin, the people of Morehead, each feeling that it would be his time to shoot next, have acted with the greatest caution. No one is ever seen on the streets after dark.

Logan, who was wounded from ambush some time ago, intends to leave the county as soon as he recovers sufficiently. The people of Morehead, regardless of past differences, with one accord condemned this cowardly attempt to assassinate Logan, and the party who was strongly suspected of it has since left the place and is said to have located in Covington.

There was a dance at Judge Menix's in Morehead Monday night, with the usual concomitants of pistols, whisky and death. Mason Keeton, a young man of dissipated habits, was killed, and John Rogers, another young man of similar proclivities, narrowly avoided the same fate. It seems to have been some outcropping of that factional strife, which has made Rowan County a synonym for bloodshed. The young men belonged to the rival factions and were both showing attentions to a daughter of the murdered John Martin. Keeeton fired the first shot, aiming it at Rogers, but it was followed by a fusillade from the bystanders. It is not known who fired the fatal shot. Rogers is a nephew of Zachary Taylor Young.

Maysville Republican
Society in Rowan County

A correspondent of the Louisville Commercial writes from Morehead: This is the present condition of society in this delectable community: So many of the leaders have either left or been killed, and so many of the rank have also fallen out of the factions, that is not likely that there will ever be another outbreak here that will assume the open demeanor the characterized the first demonstration. The factious warfare will continue, but it will be confined to bushwhacking, which is easier, safer, and not so liable to attract the attention of the state militia. In fact, the ambushade always in favor here, has become the fashion. Since the soldiers were here last year, Dr. Raine, a prominent Tolliverite, died and was buried in Louisville; Mace Keeton, a renegade from the Tollivers, has been murdered; John Day, a friend of Tolliver, was slain by his cousin, Tom Day; Wiley Tolliver, a cousin of Craig, has been cut to death; John Rogers, another Tolliverite, has been seriously wounded, and Howard Logan is yet lying seriously ill with gunshot wounds. This is the list of casualties since Cook Humphrey and Craig Tolliver agreed to quit at Mr. Caruth's suggestion.

Z. T. Young, ex-County Attorney, has moved to Mt. Sterling with his family; his son, Allie Young, has moved to Farmer's Station, seven miles below here; the Ramey's, who were shot in the discharge of their duty as Sheriffs, have been deposed. As the population is decreasing, time promises to effect a lasting compromise, though the coming generation, which is very promising, may knock old time out in the next round.

Wow Bruce,

You are fast. I will go through it one name at a time. We may have all the same ones. I did notice we have a Rebecca b. 1849 for one of Joseph and Julia's kids. Can't remember where I got that.

Also I had Lela Belle for the daughter of Daniel Lewis Webster and Emma Kate Garrett

For Robert Hook and Fannie Webster, I had Sylvester Daniel Hook b. 8/31/1881-2/10/1953 married Lily Ott and had a son Charles.

For Fannie Parker Webster married to Fred Childrey with children Catherine, Harold, Raymond 1915 and Frances 10/1/1918-5/24/2004 She married Harold Chinn who died 1/4/1958 They are buried at Black Oak Cmtry.

I will keep going and get back to you.

Marilyn

Hi Bruce,

Thanks again for the information you sent. I've updated my data. Just one note I want to mention, Joseph W. Webster, m. Julia Enix, s/o John Webster was born in Delaware Co., NY, he moved to Lewis Co, KY from NY about 1845 with 2 brothers and 2 sisters.

Larry

The will was written thusly in longhand: "I, Thomas A. Simpson of Independence, Jackson County, Missouri, do make and declare this to be my last will and testament. As a token of my appreciation of his kindness and friendship through a long business associate, and through all the years I have lived as a member of his family, I give to Charles Gudgell of Independence, Missouri all my property both real and personal absolutely, and hereby appoint him as the Executor of this will to act without giving any bond. Witness my hand this 12th day of September 1896. Thomas A. Simpson We subscribe our names as witnesses to the foregoing will of Thomas A. Simpson, at his request and in his presence, he having signed said will in our presence, this 12th day of September 1896. John R. Cogswell, William S. Flournoy"

The will was recorded in the Jackson Co., courthouse on Jan. 23, 1904, a couple weeks after Thomas died. Clerk of the court was O. W. Cogswell. It was probated on Jan. 23, 1904, also, and I have a copy of the document.

The funeral bill from Parker and Hon was submitted on Jan. 12, 1904 to Mr. Chas. Gudgell, and paid on Jan. 16 in full. It cost $3 to dig the grave--a separate bill.

Many,many thanks for your message. Yes, indeed I do see a connection. William Jamieson Simpson has been in my crosshairs for quite a while and now you've told me his wife's last name and other facts which I am so glad to get. I live just east of Kansas City and have visited the impressive gravesite of Thomas Alexander, the son, who is buried here at Pleasant Hill, Mo. just south of KC, along with his wife Frances Alexander Simpson (they are first cousins). Thomas is still talked about among the big cattle breeders though he died a century ago. If you will type in "Gudgell and Simpson" you will find some interesting details about this very famous and wealthy pair of pioneer breeders. Read items 1 and 2, particularly. I have called the American Hereford Journal's office here in KC and they knew instantly whom I was asking about. In fact, the horns of Anxiety IV are still on the wall in their building.

You may also be interested in this quote from my great uncle, Quintus Irwin Simpson (whom I knew before he died), written in a letter to my mother in March 1930. "In about 1890 I spent several days with Tom of Independence, who said his wife was his first cousin; they had no heirs. He had brother Robert, Union soldier, of near Peoria, who had son Walther, and another son. Tom and Robert took difference in the war, and were estranged. Tom was quite rich, and of Gudgell and Simpson, the world's greatest Hereford breeders, 1870-1904. Tom was akin to the Pickrells--Old Abe, father of Jesse and William; as was our line. He told me many tales of Abe, and Jesse, where he had lived with them in the forties, before married. (Around Mechanicsburg)." He is writing of Mechanicsburg, Sangamon County, Illinois.

And Quint's brother, Eugene E. Simpson, wrote in 1929: "Thomas Simpson's (Independence) father was William Jamieson Simpson who was injured in the shoulder at the Battle of River Raisin, 1812. Died September 17, 1826. Played violin very well, in those days (the old Meisel 1806). When William J. Simpson died, his violin was given to grandfather Thomas Simpson." (Incidentally, our family still had the old violin until 1989 when an uncle sold it. Had I known then of its family history, I would have begged to buy it myself.)

My own ggggrandmother, Jane Miller Simpson, spent the last four years of her life in the home of Thomas Alexander and Frances (her daughter) in Sharpsburg and died there in 1854. So there is a mixing of the two Simpson lines, and I believe that prior to William Jamieson S. the two lines descended from perhaps brothers, back in Virginia. But you know what a tough nut Virginia is to crack, at least from a distance.

By sheer coincidence, I am headed for the big KC library today to the genealogy dept. hoping to get a picture of Thomas in the 1922 August issue of the American Hereford Journal.

Many thanks again for your most welcome additions to my Simpson data. If there is anything I can provide for you, please do ask.

Sincerely,
Janet Allen

Janet,

I see at Ancestry that you are researching William J. Simpson.

I have William J. Simpson, b. before 1800, m. Mary Logan, 27 October 1817, Lewis Co., KY. He died 17 September 1826 in Lewis Co., KY and is supposed to be buried in Springfield Church Cemetery, Bath Co., KY.

He and Mary had the following children: (1) Elizabeth J. Simpson, b. ca. 1818, d. 15 July 1822, buried Springfield Church Cemetery, Bath Co., KY (2) Thomas Alexander Simpson, (3) Mary Jane Simpson (4) William Franklin Simpson, b. 11 July 1826, m. Ophelia Jane Spencer in Fulton Co., IL.

Pleasant Hill Times Jan. 8, 1904:

Gov. T. A. Simpson, aged 82, died at Independence Sunday, and was buried here Tuesday. He was a former resident of Pleasant Hill.

Pleasant Hill

Times after 1905. They did not provide a date for the article. Here is an excerpt.

MONUMENT TO PIONEER

At the world's record Hereford cattle sale held last Friday at Grandview, "Fond Memory," one of the leading heifers of the Gudgell & Simpson Anxiety IV herd, was sold to Harry Rodgers, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, for $5,000. The auctioning of "Fond Memory" was the feature of the sale, for the money which she brought was announced to go to the erection of a monument to T. A. Simpson, now at rest in Pleasant Hill Cemetery, who brought the first cattle of the Anxiety IV line to this country from Europe.

He made a number of trips from Pleasant Hill, where he and Gudgell had their enormous stock barns--in the southeast bottoms--and facilities for raising the best of purebred cattle, across the Atlantic to bring back variety in this country, during the latter part of the 19th century.....

Many of the older citizens of Pleasant Hill remember Mr. Simpson (Tom, as he was called) when he lived here. According to J. A. Henley, who knew him before the Civil War, he first ran, with Samuel Lapsley, later a Confederate captain, for his partner, a livery barn in Old Town, then the main part of the city. This business broke up with the coming of the war and Simpson went to Kentucky, where he stayed until the end of the conflict. After the war he returned to Pleasant Hill and again went into the livery business, building the large brick stable on Locust Street, which burned on Thanksgiving Day 1905, then owned by R. G. Guyton. Later he became foreman for Gudgell, in the cattle business in the Bottoms, and it was thus he got started in the Hereford business. Sometime later, however, the partners moved their business to Independence.

The article written by Guy W. Green for the Aug. 1, 1922 issue of The American Hereford Journal says this: "Governor" Simpson died on the morning of Jan. 4, 1904, in Independence at the home of Charles Gudgell, with whom he had lived for 27 years. His death came after an illness of more than a year, during which time he was unable to leave his room and for the greater part of which time he was confined to his bed. His death was due to kidney trouble. He had also suffered severely from rheumatism. On the streets of Independence and in his partner's home there was much mourning when the "Governor" passed. He was laid to rest in Pleasant Hill among the scenes of his early trials and triumphs."

The same article says: "In 1851, Mr. Simpson married Frances Jane Simpson, a distant relative. Mrs. Simpson died in 1872. No children were born to this union and Mr. Simpson, having lost his first love, never married again."

John M. Logan came to Indiana about 1836 and to Fountain Co. about that same time. I found John M. Logan in the 1840 Census of Fountain Co. Indiana, Richland Twp. Also found an Alexander Logan in the same census in Richland Twp. Do Not Know if he is one of ours will do some checking to find out for sure!!!

There possibly was another child of John M. and Eleanore (Parker) Logan: William C. Logan, b. abt 1827. Various records of William and John M. appear in Lewis Co., KY, but there is nothing to link him directly to John and Eleanore. (BEL)

##The first born was Archibald B. Day, b 1822 Morgan Co. Archibald removed to Wisconsin, where he married, and later to MN where he died. Another son, Travis Benjamin was born in 1827. Travis married in Indiana and died in Illinois. Daniel Dillon, born 1840, married Harriet Elizabeth Setters, d/o Perlitha Setters, and both died in Illinois. Polly is actually Mary Ann and she married in 1854 to Joseph D. Ford, had a daughter, Lydia Margaret Ford in November 1854. She apparently died before 1857 as Joseph remarried in 1857 to Mary Mann. There may have been another son named William L. or S. Day, who married in 1854 to Sarah Patton.

Notes for HARRIETT ELIZABETH JORDAN:

[Hiram.FTW]

Copy below appeared in the Graphic-Clarion in the 19th issue of 1926.

Arthur Woman had 53 grandchildren

Harriett Elizabeth Jordan, daughter of Washington and Perlitha Jordan was born in Carter County, Kentucky, April 13, 1844. She parted this life on March 9, 1926 at the home of her son, Albert Day in Arthur, Illinois at the age of 81 years, 10 months and 26 days.

She was one of a family of six children, two of whom survive her, Mr. Lelander Setters of Jolton, Tenn. and Mrs. Sue Carrington of Marshall, Tenn. Her parents and three sisters and one brother preceded her in death a number of years ago.

At the tender age of twelve years she was united with the Christian Church and remained a devout Christian until her death. At the age of 16 she was united in marriage to Daniel Day of Kentucky, and to this union were born twelve children, Joseph, Net, Tresa, and John preceded her in death. The remaining children to mourn her departure are: Allen of Findlay, Illinois, Mrs. Eliza Williams of East St. Louis, Illinois, Mrs. Lydia Wylie of Ville Grove, Illinois, Albert, Charles, Mrs. Ollie Keeney, Mrs. Alice Moore, of Arthur, Illinois and James of Champaign, Illinois; 53 grand children also survive her and many friends.

Farewell to our own dear mother whose voice is hushed in death

When Jesus called our mother home,

Death stopped her mortal breath

Angels bore her spirit beyond this world of woe,

She's gone to live with Jesus in rest for evermore.

THE HARRIS MURDER

Arch Horner and Several of His Sons Under Arrest on Suspicion of Being Implicated in It.

Arch Horner and two of three of his sons are now in jail at Greenup charged with the murder of old Jordan Harris at "Nigger Hill," near the Lewis county line last Monday. This murder was particularly brutal one. Harris was an old man 86 years of age. At one time he was one of the wealthiest men in his section, being worth in the neighborhood of $30,000 to $40,000.

Land speculations and law suits almost broke him up, but he nearly always had a considerable sum of money on his person. Last Monday night he was found lying in the road near the Horner residence with his head crushed in, while his horse was tied to the fence near by. The case was reported to the Greenup authorities, and Coroner Brady made a thorough investigation. He announced as his verdict that Harris had come to his death by being beaten over the head with a blunt instrument of some kind. The Horners were suspected of knowing something about the murder, and one of them was immediately placed under arrest. Yesterday a strong posse went to "Nigger Hill," and this morning about four o'clock arrived at Greenup with a whole wagon load of prisoners, including Arch Horner and several of his boys.

They are all now safely in jail.

Old Man Robbed and Murdered

There is a dividing ridge that roughly defines part of the boundaries of Lewis, Greenup, and Carter. It is generally known as White Oak Ridge and for Lewis County serves as the headwater of Scaffold Lick, Briery, Montgomery, and McDowell Creeks. On this ridge there are two hilly locations known as Negro Hill. The first one is at the head of Briery Creek and the other is the head of Montgomery Creek. The Briery Hill is the location of our next story, which took place in 1896.

The editor of the Maysville Bulletin, on Nov. 12, 1896, in recording this story stated that this hill and the surrounding area was known as the toughest place in Northeastern Kentucky. " Following is the story of the murder of an elderly man named Jordan Harris: Jordan Harris, over 85, had spent Sunday with friends back of Quincy and was to be home early in the evening. When he failed to arrive, his son Charles Harris started in search of him. The old man lived near Brushart and in going home had to pass what is known as "Negro Hill." And which known as the toughest place in Northeastern Kentucky, being the home of Arch Homer an old fellow who did an illicit business in liquor and always had a crowd at the establishment. Many hard characters live near the hill.

When young Harris was within a half mile of Arch Homer's house he saw a horse standing by the side of the road, and near it lay a dark object. He was horrified to find the body of his father, apparently dead. Help was summoned and the body was carried to Horner's house. A doctor was sent for, and he found one wound on Harris' forehead, just above the eyes. The blow had fractured his skull. The body was then taken to the house of his son.

Harris always carried quite a sum of money with him, but nothing was found on him.. His pockets had been rifled; he was killed no doubt for his money.

Harris was one of the best known men in Greenup County, having been a resident there all his life. He leaves a large family of sons and daughters, all grown.

ARCH HORNER

Of Nigger Hill, Ky, in the City
Looking for Boone Harris

The Fugitive from Justice was Hastily Released from Custody Here Last Week - $2500 Will be Offered and Every Effort Possible Made to Capture Him.

A great deal has been heard lately about the Horners and Harrises of Lewis county, Kentucky. Old man Arch Horner was in the city today, looking for Boone Harris, who was released from jail here last week. Harris is a wanted in Kentucky for shooting Mrs. Arch Horner a years or more ago. Old man Horner was tried and found guilty of shooting Jordan Harris, father of Boone Harris. Horner carried the case to the court of appeals and was granted an new trial. The case is still in the courts. Horner says the man Harris was found some distance below his house one morning dead, where his horse had fallen on him causing death. The marks of the horse's foot and some hair from the horse were found on Harris. "I was home in bed all night," says Horner, " and never saw or touched Harris, but fake swearing was against me. The Harris family thinks I had something to do with his death, and when drinking have threatened to kill me. Boone left Vanceburg that night saying he was going to kill me before morning". Mr. Horner is a typical backwoods Kentuckian. Until a few years back he has been selling whisky over near what is know as Nigger Hill. He owns about six hundred acres of land in that vicinity. He says they have been trying to run him out of there. A few years ago they burned a large barn for him. He claims to be peaceable and would harm no man. He proposes to keep after Boone Harris until he is captured.

A reward of $25 will be offered for his capture. The officials of Lewis county and of Greenup County, have warrants for him.

I, James Fults, Clerk of the Carter County Court do certify that the foregoing instrument of writing was produced to me in open Court on the 8th day of October, 1906 and proven by the oath of J. M. Scott and Elwood Keflier to be the Last Will and Testament of William Stamper deceased whereupon it is ordered that the testament of William Stamper deceased and the same is now duly recorded in my office

Given under my hand this October 8th 1906

/s/ James Fults, Clerk

Carter County Clerk

Submitter's Notes: The above will has been typed exactly as handwritten into the record, by the Clerk, including misspellings. William Stamper was born 1839 and died 1906 in Carter Co., Kentucky, the son of John "Pewter John" Stamper and Sarah "Sallie" Stamper. {John and Sallie were cousins}. According to their marriage license, Cynthia Miller Harris who had been previously married twice, was the fourth wife of William. They were married on 24 Feb 1901. It is rumored that William may have had as many as seven wives.

Portsmouth Times, Saturday, Jan. 23, 1892

SLASH BRANCH, KY,

We have but one wedding to announce this week, but when age and experience are taken into consideration, this one is as good as a half dozen ordinary marriages. It claps the climax. The contracting parties were Abraham Logan, of Leatherwood and Mrs. Anna Boster, of near Greenup, groom being 77 years old, the bride 64. We hope that their latter days may be their best.

James Logan

The remains of James Logan, the Civil war veteran who passed away at his home at Fullerton Tuesday night, were shipped to Garrison, Ky., Thursday morning. Services over the body will be conducted at the Thomas cemetery at Montgomery, Friday with interment in the Logan lot.

The pioneer Kentuckian was 72 years of age when tuberculosis claimed his life. He was a native of Greenup county, and resided in Fullerton for the past two months. Five years ago his wife preceded him to the Great Beyond, but three sons and one daughter survive. They are Charles, Donald (sic.) and Abraham and Mrs. Ella Kelley, wife of John Kelley, all of Fullerton.

(The Thomas Cemetery is actually Granny Thomas Cemetery and Donald must be John Henry Logan, son of James and Margaret June (Densmore) Logan)

Francis M. Logan

Francis Marion Logan a retired Norfolk & Western employee passed away at 5:40 am. today at the home of a daughter, Mrs John Kitchen, 3154 Walnut street with whom he lived. He had been ill a week and death was attributed to infirmities.

Mr. Logan was born and reared in Greenup county, Ky, where he lived until 1917, when he came to Portsmouth. He worked for the N & W untill 1922 when he retired. Mr. Logan had been for 35 years a minister of the Christian church of Greenup county and was a member of First Christian church Greenup. On Nov. 23 1889, he married Sarah Martin, who died in 1895.

Besides the daughter at whose home he died, Mr. Logan is survived by a son, Francis M. Jr. 3154 Walnut street and two other daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Logan 3115 Walnut street, and Mrs. Emma Cyrus of Rarden route 1. He also leaves 30 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday at Emrick's funeral home with Rev. Hollie Conley officiating. Burial will be in Rushtown cemetery. The body will be at the Kitchen residence until Saturday morning, when it will be taken to the funeral home for rites.

Subject: Re: Thanks!!

I am mainly interested in direct ancestors and have not started branching to get descendants of any particular ancestor. I do however like to have the basic info about the children of any of my direct ancestors, so if you have anything to add on those that would be great.

So I guess starting with the Dyer in my ancestry that would be:

http://wiki.abulsme.com/Catherine_Dyer http://wiki.abulsme.com/Mary_Alice_Stamper http://wiki.abulsme.com/Maude_Mae_Rayburn http://wiki.abulsme.com/Mary_Sue_Wootton http://wiki.abulsme.com/William_Maynard_Minter
http://wiki.abulsme.com/Samuel_Antonio_Minter

I think I am fairly complete on those, at least in terms of having the basic info about each of their children, if not spreading out into more recent generations other than in my own line. But if you have any corrections or additional info on any of those that would be great. Or more information about any of the other ancestors of any of the above. There is apparently some controversy on the Stamper line for instance on Mary Alice's Stamper grandfather's parentage and if you had any insight I'd love to hear it. Or just more going back beyond Catherine's parents.

If you have it on your website, I'm sure I'll get to it eventually though, but if you have stuff to send me, I'll take a look sooner. :-)

Oh, and if you had Ruth S. (Antonio) Minter, then you had me even if you didn't know it. My mother was Ruth Marilyn Brandon (Minter) but the S. Antonio is me. :-)

Samuel,

Thanks for the quick come back.

Yes, I saw you have a link to my web page and I appreciate that. However, don't worry about using the photo of George and Catherine. I know people are going to use information from my web page. That is why I put it there.

If you would like I can send you a file on the Logan and Dyer lines. I can put it into as many generations as you want. I know most people are "main liners" and only want the earlier generations or their main line. I try to find all the descendants of my Logan ancestors and have accumulated lots of information on later generations including lines that are not my own. I even have William M. and Ruth S. (Antonio) Minter, but not you in my data base

I even have a lot on the Rayburns since they married into my Logan and Penland lines.

Thanks for the email... and apologies for not making the fact that the pictures originated with your site more explicit. I had you in my references section, but should probably give the credit directly. Glad you didn't mind me using the pics. I'm definately interested in any info you have on my direct line. I hadn't had Elizabeth Logan's parents yet, so that was new to me. I've been a bit swamped so it may be a bit until I update my pages with your info, but I will! (And I'll let you know when I do.)

I've basically been building out my pages in a breadth first manner... me, then my father, then my mother, then my father's father, then my father's mother... etc. Except when I've gotten info sent to me from relatives or from other external sources, then I try to build out that branch sooner rather than waiting to get to it in order as it were. So I'll add in Elizabeth's parents as soon as I get a chance. :-) feel free to add anything yourself if you get the urge. :-)

If you have any more info, let me know (or point me at it) and I'll try to add the info to my stuff as I can. (Alternately, it is a Wiki...

And of COURSE feel free to take any info I have on the later generations in my line that you might be interested in. A link back or a credit would be cool, but that's up to you. As you said, it is all about sharing the info.
