

From: "Sue Minter" <suewminter@webtv.net>
Subject: country school
Date: 24 August 2006 19:27:09 GMT+00:00
To: sminter@unm.edu, abulsme@abulsme.com, drminter@prodigy.net.mx
Cc: Procel@gmail.com, tepozl@hotmail.com, jakeminter@fastmail.FM

One of the fun things sister Norma Louise and I did at grandmas in the country was to go to school with our male cousins, Wilbur and Charlie. We rode ponies and Charlie the littlest rode on the back of a wide mare driven by the schoolteacher, cousin of aunt Besses, up to the one room school(all grades). We took a bag lunch and took turns from the water bucket for drinks. Charlie first grader i think was at the blackboard and the teacher pointed to a picture of a pig PIG written by it. "Hog: answered Charlie. when the story was told at the supper table that night, Charles" reply was "Wilbur has a big mouth!" it was just such a school that our Mother Maude taught as her first job.