Very interesting stuff. I made a trip up north two years ago to do some research on our family and came across some information that you may want. Pay special attention to the grave maker of Olive ,wife of John Hulbut, that i found in a small rundown cemetery in Ripton, VT.. I know it's a bit morbid to take pictures of grave stones but it was a quick way to get the information before it turned dark. I've enclosed a few pictures of my trip that may be of some historical interest. There is one grave maker that I could barely make out as a hurlbut. maybe you have a way to enhance the picture for a better view.. I have many pictures from the weybrideg cemetery as well that I'm sure you've probably seen or taken yourself.. if you want those pictures let me know and I'll forward them along. David Brandon can get you a copy of the Hiram's Harvey Hurlbut diary that is extremely interesting if you haven't already read it.I can make a copy for you if you want too. I'm told there is a copy of his wife's Susan's diary but I've yet been able to get a hold of a copy to read it.. if you have a copy I'd love a copy if you get a free minute. Keep up the research !!!

As some of you know already, I've slowly been adding some genealogical information on the web based on what I can find on the web and what various relatives have sent me. I haven't gotten it all up by any means, but am slowly adding more as I have time. So far on the Brandon side of my family tree I've got 18 ancestors up (out of the 100 or so I know I have info on without any additional research).

You can see them listed and linked from here:
http://wiki.abulsme.com/RMBPedigree\_Tree

All of this is in Wiki format, so if any of you have additional information on any of them please feel free to hit the "edit" buttons and contribute what you know.

In any case, most of this will probably be of little interest to most of you, but if you are interested and want to get an email whenever I add a new person or when I make significant updates, just email me and let me know, and I'll put you on a mailing list of people for that purpose. If you don't email me and ask to be added to that list, I won't bother you with any more updates on this stuff. (You will of course always be able to check my website for the info.)

Anyway, let me know.

Also, my intention was to send this to all the descendants of Marion Hurlburt and Ralph Brandon, but I know I am missing email addresses for some people that fit that category. So if you know anybody I missed who might be interested, please forward this along! (And/Or let me know their emails!)

Thanks!
