Brandy just called and said it was the same day Nell Carter died. The people Doug lived with were close to Nell Carter. They had a "very bad day".

Brandy also notes that her mother says, that Albert Jr (who was indeed a brother of Leonard) was looking into family stuff and discovered that the records from the part of the town in Ireland the Donaghy's were from were lost in a fire, so we may have difficulty tracing things past that point. Brandy's mom says we may have to go there to investigate further.

Brandy's mom will be sending more information.
